

Hello DYD Partners,

Many young people and families in Los Angeles are feeling a lot of stress, fear and uncertainty right now because of ongoing federal immigration enforcement activity. I want you to know that the Department of Youth Development (DYD) and our County partners are working hard to help residents navigate these challenging times safely and with dignity. DYD's "Know Your Rights" webpage provides a comprehensive list of organizations that can offer legal aid, mental health support, and other services. Please visit the page by clicking here.

In May and June, DYD hosted five district-based meetings with community and County partners to discuss the Probation Department's Facility Plan, which impacts youth in the County's juvenile halls, camps, and Secure Youth Treatment Facilities. These dialogues allowed impacted youth, families, and the wider community to learn about the plan, provide feedback, and share perspectives. A consistent theme voiced by the public was the need for comprehensive transportation options to support family visits to facilities. Our Research, Policy, and Innovation team is organizing feedback from the dialogues for release in the coming weeks.

This month, I was excited to attend Supervisor Holly Mitchell's Juneteenth celebration and resource fair. Juneteenth, observed on June 19th, commemorates the day in 1865 when enslaved Texans finally learned of their freedom, nearly two and a half years after the Emancipation Proclamation. This joyful day of celebration and reflection reminds us that the pursuit of justice and equality remains an ongoing national challenge.

I also had the honor of speaking to talented young authors from the San Fernando Valley, whose short stories are featured in "Our Voices"—a powerful collection created in partnership with the Plus Me Project and supported by DYD. Read on to explore the book, get a heads-up on an exciting youth program partnership with the Parks Department, celebrate successes from our Reentry Action for Youth (RAY) program, and discover upcoming leadership and employment opportunities for young people.

As always, I value your input and feedback. Connect with us at info@dyd.lacounty.gov with any questions or concerns and please explore DYD.LA for more information and resources.

RAY Update

Our Reentry team recently updated the Probation Oversight Commission on the Reentry Action for Youth (RAY) program. RAY is a comprehensive, care-first initiative designed to support youth reintegrating into their communities.

The program pairs young people with justice-experienced mentors who provide case management, connects them to essential resources (employment, housing, education, and health), and offers significant financial aid.

RAY is rapidly making an impact- in the three months since its launch, youth participation has doubled, and the program has successfully diverted at least two young people from detention at Los Padrinos Juvenile Hall. Click here to learn more about RAY or email RAY@dyd.lacounty.gov.

June is Gun Violence Awareness Month

Fact: Firearms are the leading cause of death for children and teens in the U.S. To champion gun safety, DYD this month joined with the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health's Office of Violence Prevention (OVP), for a June resource fair and Community Discussion on Gun Violence. You can find important gun safety information here on the OVP's website.

DYD June GOATs

Each month, we shine a spotlight on our incredible team members who embody DYD's dedication to empowering and uplifting young people. This month, we celebrate Angela Kim and Vanessa Reyes from our Coordination and Innovation team for their exceptional hard work and contributions throughout the year! They've been instrumental in everything from developing DYD strategic initiatives, designing new programs and creating outreach materials to co-leading our 2024 Youth Summit and engaging with our community partners.

Let's also give a huge shout-out to our fiscal team, which includes John Selio, Melanie Yumul, Stephanie Chow, Pearl Le, Ryan Lim, and Jason Martinez. As the guardians of DYD's financial integrity, they work tirelessly behind the scenes to ensure every dollar is accounted for, invoices are processed efficiently, and our financial operations run smoothly, allowing us to focus on our mission.

Congratulations to our June honorees!
